

Customer Consignment Agreement:

Who is eligible for consignment?

Anyone who brings in their new or used clothes, bags, sunglasses etc that are then approved for consignment by the owner Ashley.

When can I bring my items in?

Monday 12:00-6:00, (Tuesday we are closed), Wednesday-Friday 12:00-6:00. We do not take items on the weekend except by appointment only. *Give us a call and make an appointment for Saturday. Weekends are busy for us so we appreciate your understanding and making an appointment.

How does it work? What is the percentage breakdown for you and the store?

When you bring your items in for consignment a price will be determined for the item, they will be tagged and placed out for display. You will be given a consignment number and fill out an agreement. When your item sells you will get 30% in a check for the item that sells or 40% store credit that you can use at anytime. Ex. Say your Betsey Johnson Dress sells for $100 you would get $30 in a check or $40 to use as store credit whenever you'd like.

Rights of the vendor and the store:

To Hell in a Handbag is responsible for any loss, theft or damage* (Damage subject to owner discretion. Ex. A handle becomes separated from a bag, this is due to a manufacturing error and is the responsibilities of the original owner. A T-Shirt gets faded from the sun, this is the responsibility of the store.)

Why consign with To Hell in a Handbag?

You get more bang for your buck. While you might get $12 for your Betsey Johnson dress on the spot at Buffalo Exchange, you would get $30 or $40 credit at To Hell in a Handbag.

Items get featured on our Facebook and website as well as on the road when we do art shows and events. To Hell in a Handbag has its employees on commission so they have every incentive to sell your items. We have been featured in the Union Tribune, San Diego Home and Garden, the North Park News, Discover San Diego Magazine and the SD Metro.
